

NEW YORK GASPS IN A HOT WAVE

Eight Deaths and Scores of Prostrations at Noon.

OUTLOOK NOT GOOD

It Was Intensely Hot This Morning, with No Relief in Sight.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

New York, June 29.—New York is in the grasp of a fearful hot wave. In the past twenty-four hours eight deaths and scores of prostrations are reported.

It is intensely hot this morning and no relief in sight. Thousands of people spent the night on the roofs and along the beach.

The Hospitals report today that they have all of the heat cases that they can handle.

The weather prospects next week will break all heat records.

Hot Wave Is General.

Chicago, June 29.—The mercury registered 93 degrees here at noon. It was hot but still more comfortable than yesterday and the day before. No prostrations had been reported up to noon.

Chicago, with its 93-degree weather was a summer resort in comparison to Concordia, Kan., where the mercury soared to the 104 mark. At Kansas City and Omaha the thermometers registered 100 and this afternoon the weather station at Omaha informed Professor Cox that all records for June weather in Omaha had been smashed.

St. Louis, Des Moines, Albany and Dodge City, Kan., all reported 93 degrees, while Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock, Louisville and Dubuque thermometers show two degrees below that figure. There were more than enough cities reporting temperatures above 90 to stock a general geography with names.

FRENCH CHAFFEUR WON THE BIG RACE

Berlin, June 29.—Fournier, the French Chaffeur, who has led in the Paris-Berlin Automobile race, since the start, dashed into Berlin at 11:38 this morning, covered with dust. He was the first to finish in the long race. A big crowd and several hands struck up the "Marseillaise" while the crowd cheered long and lustily.

Kaiser Wilhelm was not present at the arrival of the Frenchman but he will meet the contesting automobilists later in the day at a banquet given in their honor.

AMERICAN LOWERS BRITISH FLAG TROUBLE MAY ENSUE AT SKAGUAY

Brother of Joaquin Miller Hauls Down English Emblem—Canadian Authorities Threatened with Mob Violence.

Vancouver, B. C., June 29.—The British flag recently raised over the Canadian customs building at Skaguay has been hauled down by an American. The act has caused great excitement at the American gateway to the Klondike. The steamship Islander, which arrived today with the news, brings the official statement of the affair from a Canadian standpoint.

According to this statement, on Saturday morning at 8:30 M. E. Busby Canadian supervisor of customs, acting on instructions from the Canadian department of customs, hoisted the official customs flag over his office. The flag was no sooner up than Mr. Andrews, the United States collector at Skaguay, called on Busby and demanded by what right he raised the flag without the stars and stripes being raised above it. Busby replied that it was not the national emblem, but the customs flag, placed there in accordance with the usage all over the world, to indicate to the public where the office was situated. Andrews appeared to be satisfied with the explanation and a man named Miller, an attorney of Eugene, Ore., and a brother of Joa-

CONNECT WISCONSIN LAKES

Chicago Capitalists Back Scheme of Building Electric Railways Kenosha, Wis., June 28.—An effort is to be made to connect all the lake regions of southern Wisconsin with a chain of electric railways. Articles of incorporation were sent to Madison today for the incorporation of the Wisconsin Inter-Lake railway company. The incorporators are all local men but it is stated that they will not be connected with the company. The backers of the company are all Chicago men, but none of the names of the financiers of the company are mentioned in the articles of incorporation. The purpose of the company is to construct railway lines between the lakes in Wisconsin. The capital stock of the new company is $100,000.

HUTTON ADVISED TO DECLINE JOB

President Lyon is in Receipt of a Letter from the Whitewater School Man.

Madison, Wis., June 29.—President Lyon of the board today received a letter from Prof. A. J. Hutton, who has been offered the superintendency of the School for the Blind at Janesville. He is still undecided and says that he has received much advice against accepting it, but President Lyon is hopeful that he will finally conclude to take the position. W. E. Anderson, ex-city clerk of Milwaukee is an applicant for the superintendency of the school for the deaf at Delavan.

J. W. Hopkins of Plainfield, Kan., is visiting his sisters, Mrs. E. C. Burdick and Mrs. J. F. Waggoner. He came to this city to assist his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hopkins in the celebration of their golden wedding.

PLANS FOR A NEW ELECTRIC LINE FROM KILBOURN TO JANESVILLE

Will Run by Way Baraboo and Madison, and Will Connect with the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Road for Southern Points.

William J. Bell, manager of the Baraboo Telephone company, who attended the electricians' convention at La Crosse this week, says that an electric railway from Kilbourn via Baraboo to Madison will surely be built and it may be extended to Janesville where it would connect with a line to Delavan lake.

Mr. Bell says that he gained his information from conversation that he overheard, and also from the fact that a Chicago company is now working on a contract for special made cross arms to carry the heavy voltage of electricity. He was informed that these were to be used for the electric line from Kilbourn where the power would be generated. Undoubtedly there is a good foundation for Mr. Bell's statement in regard to the circuit of the electric roads of which he speaks. It is well known that surveys have been made between this city and Madison by interurban promoters and no one believes that Janesville will be the terminus of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric road. As soon as the line now under consideration is completed by this company they will begin reaching out towards other towns that will be feeders for them. A system of electric lines such as Mr. Bell speaks of would be a great benefit to the community and every encouragement should be given the promoters of the scheme. A good electric system would mean almost as much to the city as a good system of steam railroads and their construction should be encouraged.

DEMAND TELEPHONES ON FARMS COMPANIES EXTENDING LINES

Estimated That at Least 300 Farmers in Rock and Walworth Counties Have Phones—Circuit Around the State Proposed.

The farmers of Southern Wisconsin have got the telephone craze. No farm house is now complete unless it is in communication with the outside world by telephone. The telephone systems in the cities are extending their lines in all directions throughout the country, wherever they can get a number of farmers to join in and take phones and take a small block of stock.

One line belonging to the Rock County Telephone company, running towards Emerald Grove has twenty-five farmers on the line. The line running out of Clinton to the Independent Telephone Company has seventy-five subscribers and one running out of Elkhorn has over one hundred.

The Badger Long Distance Telephone company have a line running through Fulton and Edgerton and north to Fort Atkinson that has twenty subscribers.

It is estimated by people acquainted with the business that there are at least three hundred farmers in Rock and Walworth counties that have phones.

The farmer is beginning to be alive to the numerous advantages of having a phone in the house. They are able to keep in touch with what is going on in the cities, ascertain the price of produce and whether the market is overstocked and a thousand other things that a man living in the city never thinks of. In case of sickness a call to the nearest town will bring a doctor in less time than it formerly took to get one and time is often a great thing in case of accidents or sudden illness.

MONUMENTS FOR HEROES OF SHILOH

Governor Appoints Five Men to Arrange for the Erection of Shafts on Battlefield.

Madison, Wis., June 29.—Governor La Follette today appointed the commission to erect monuments on the battlefield of Shiloh to the Wisconsin soldiers who were slain there. The commissioners selected are from the three regiments who took part in the conflict. They are: Rockwell E. Osborne, La Crosse, and Capt. F. H. Magdelburg, Milwaukee; of the Fourteenth regiment; D. Lloyd Jones, Milwaukee, and David James, Richland Center of the Sixteenth, and J. W. Babcock, Brant of the Eighteenth. The commissioners receive no pay other than traveling and other necessary expenses. The last legislature appropriated $10,000 for these monuments but left it to the commission to determine whether one general monument or one for each regiment should be erected. The law making the appropriation provides that Wisconsin granite must be used for these monuments.

CAVE-IN OF A BIG RAILWAY TUNNEL

Great Destruction of Property in Baltimore Owing to the Fall of Underground Viaduct.

Baltimore, June 29.—With a great roar the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel beneath Hoffman street caved in early this morning. An extra train was just going through but was stopped in time. Immediately after the cave-in the water mains laid about the tunnel burst and torrents of water swept against the sides increasing the size of the hole. The cave-in is still extending. Every house near is threatened and the people are moving out. The gas pipes are all broken. The tunnel is nearly a mile long.

WISCONSIN'S FORM EXCITES THE EAST WILL BE A FACTOR AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Appearance of the Badger Crew on the Hudson Changes Opinion—They Are After the Pennant.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29.—All of the crews that will participate in the international university contest on July 2 are now on the Hudson. The hard work of the oarsmen is now finished and the work of the oarsmen from now on will be in practicing starts and doing enough rowing to keep hardened. The outlook is for a record-breaking contest in the varsity contest and a snappy struggle between the freshmen crews.

The Cornell and Pennsylvania eights and fours were out early this afternoon. They were followed by Georgetown's varsity, the Syracuse varsity and freshmen eights, and Columbia's two eights and two fours. Syracuse took a long row but the other crews took a short practice.

Badgers Show Excellent Form. Wisconsin's eight shows excellent form. The shell moves smoothly and swiftly. The Badgers are regarded as likely to cut out a fast pace.

Coach O'Dea is reticent, but it is understood that the members of the crew confidently expect to win, although they realize that Cornell and Columbia are dangerous rivals. A Wisconsin man who has watched the practice of the Badgers at home says that this year's eight is faster than any crew ever before been sent out from Madison.

GAS GUSHER IN A FURIOUS RAGE

Sand and Rock Is Shot Three Hundred Feet up into the Air

OIL REGION FREAK

Derrick Over a New Beaumont, Tex. Well Is Totally Demolished.

IT PUZZLES OIL MEN

Beaumont, Tex., June 29.—The most remarkable event in the history of the Beaumont field occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when gas in the well being bored by the J. M. Guffey Petroleum company in the midst of the other gushers broke loose and tore up everything in its path. The drillers had drilled through the cap rock just over the oil sand, but nothing happened, and they were in the act of removing the drill pipe, having taken out about 500 feet, leaving 400 in the hole, when the gas broke loose and shot the pipe out the top and over the derrick like a rocket. This was followed by a terrific roaring sound of escaping gas and water. Sand and rock spouted 300 feet in the air. Of all the experienced oil men here none ever saw the like before. The heavy drilling rig was lifted clear off its foundation and set to one side, while the whole top was torn into splinters. It is impossible to approach closer than one hundred feet of the well and the drillers have not the slightest idea how it can be stopped. Some think it will blow itself out, and others think it will be as stable as the oil field itself.

Thousands of people are driving to the field tonight to see the wonder. There is but very little oil in the discharge, though the well is close in the defined oil territory, and is drilled to the oil-bearing sand; a depth of 920 feet, where all the other wells have found oil.

The Heywood Oil company's No. 3 well, about five hundred yards away, came in at noon today a magnificent oil gusher, which spouted over the top of the derrick at the first trial. There is no way to stop the gas well unless it blows itself out; it may bring about fearful destruction if it catches on fire.

When the gas first broke loose there was no water or sand on it, but it had only been running a few minutes when the sand, water and rocks began to come out. The rock which comes from the well is of two kinds—a hard flint rock, which is supposed to be the cap rock, and the oil-bearing sand rock. The latter comes out in pieces as large as a man's fist and shows peculiar formation. Some of it shows the wear of the oil, and has the appearance of rocks which have been washed by the soil. Of the experienced old men who have seen every sort of phenomena in the oil world none can recall anything which equals this well. Many are of the opinion that oil will follow the gas flow.

From appearances the 8-inch casing, which extended only about 500 feet into the well, has sunk down beneath the surface and cannot be reached with a valve. This leaves only a hole in the ground, with a force of perhaps 500 or 600 pounds to the square inch to stop, with no other anchorage than the loose sand.

Just Between Ourselves

Verily truth is stranger than fiction and there are many things happening right around us that one would scarcely expect to see outside of the covers of the notorious dime novel. It is hardly fair to ask people to moralize during such sizzling weather as this for when one takes a peep beneath the city's superficial life one finds many things to rouse the indignation of thinking people to the boiling point. During the past few days an incident has been brought to my attention so forcibly that I have come to understand how a woman can come to the point where, in spite of the natural reserve and dislike of notoriety, she nerves herself to horsewhip a man publicly in the streets or even to shoot him in his tracks.

There are many blots on modern civilization but there are none worse than the man who relentlessly persecutes a young and innocent girl. Let me tell you the story which is almost a past belief. The man is married. More than that, he is a grandfather. The girl is fatherless and is a member of a family of quiet, refined respectability and moderate means. She is unknown to society and perhaps few of you would know her should you hear her name. She is one of the great army of girls who find it necessary to earn her living, a thing which the man's persecution makes almost impossible for her to do.

Brought up in the quiet retirement of a religious home, she knew little of the evil of the world and being pretty and unsuspecting and having no protector but a mother and sister as retiring as herself, she doubtless seemed an easy victim to the snares of designing man. He laid his plans artfully, engaging her to do writing for him, paying her for the work and treating her kindly and considerately. Then he hired her to accompany him by carriage to take an invoice of stock which he had purchased in an adjoining town. It was bread and butter to her, and she went, only to find, according to his statement, that the goods had been sold to another party through a misunderstanding. He paid her the price agreed on for the day and she thought nothing of it. Later another trip was made on the same pretext with the same result. He did nothing to arouse her suspicions on either trip but before long, vile insinuations concerning those trips began to float around. Meanwhile the man grew bolder and forced his company on the girl so much that she grew startled and when he asked her to work in his office she refused.

She began to avoid him after that but one day she received a message, that his wife, who was a neighbor, was ill and asking her to come to the house. She went reluctantly and out of a sense of duty only to find that the woman was not sick and was not even at home and that the man had sent the message. She was ill and asking her to come to be played on her and told him so plainly. She then escaped, although he tried to detain her by force.

From that time there was no relief from the persecution that the girl was called upon to endure. A spirit of revenge was aroused in the man and he seemed determined to compromise the girl who had eluded him. He had gone out of business in the meantime and had nothing to do but stand on the street corners and plan to torment her. He would watch for her when she came from work and would walk by her side. If she went into a store he would go too, and wait for her. When passing a crowd of men he would say loudly and earnestly: "Don't talk so loud." He read letters of the vilest character him with a bar room crowd for an audience. He wrote her threatening letters telling her that if she ever told of his attentions to her she would be made co-responsible in a divorce suit which his wife would begin at once. He hung around the place where she worked until her employer, believing in her and knowing where the blame was, was forced to let her go. If she left the city for a few days he would see her on the way to the depot and would follow her, keeping so near her at the depot and when she got on the train that anyone would think he was seeing her off while the casual observer would think he was accompanying her. Perhaps he would not speak to her but he would torture her with his presence and sent her insulting letters during her absence. He sent women of unsavory reputation to her home to see her on one pretext and another. Indeed nothing seemed too diabolical for him to think of and do.

He kept the girl in constant terror of the notoriety of a divorce suit and finally he told her that the divorce could only be averted by her going to his wife and talking matters over. Innocently thinking that if she explained to the wife that there was no ground for any jealousy and that she did not want the attentions of her husband, the girl, without daring to ask advice, went to the wife and told her story only to be laughed at and to find that instead of clearing herself she had been made to implicate herself. The next time the wife passed her on the street she drew aside her skirts and said, "Bah."

Disheartened and desperate with the trouble she had borne by herself for over a year, the girl confided in a few friends who have done their best to help her. Complaint was made to the authorities, a lawyer was consulted and the police threatened the man with a broken head if he was ever seen to speak to her again. But the persecution has not ceased and it has taken on a subtle form. He complains to business men of the way in which this girl is chasing him and contrives so that they shall be seen together even if he does not speak to her. He has even used the newspaper to further his ends in compromising the girl. On two occasions when she has been out of the city to visit her sister, he has stopped a reporter and given him personal one of which has been to the effect that the young lady spent the day in a certain city and another that he has been in the same city at the same time. In both instances the personals, which were innocently published, were false, the reporter knowing nothing of the inference, which would be drawn from them. In both instances the man never left the city but he took care to add the gossip which the newspaper items caused.

This malicious persecution is all the worse because there seems no redress for it. If this were a southern city the man would get his just deserts speedily. As it is, the friends of the girl are becoming so enraged that there is serious talk of an application of tar and feathers, unless as one friend puts it, he stops "camping on her trail." Some of those who know of this outrageous proceeding claim that the man is not right in his head. If he is insane he should be put where he can do no harm. He has done enough of that already. The young girl and her mother are almost prostrated. He allows the girl no peace when she is home and she dares not leave town for fear of the stories which he will tell. The chivalrous men of Janesville should do something to protect her.

This is no fairy tale. The facts are vouched for by business men of reliability and high repute. It is going on at the present time. If there is no statute by which the law and the police can put an end to this contemptible business a little of law of the western mining camp in the early forties would doubtless meet the demands of the case. It is at least but right that he should be exposed so that people may know what his stories are worth and not permit him to destroy a young woman's character as well as her peace of mind. L. F. B.

FARM OWNERSHIP OF THIS COUNTRY

Census Bureau Will Issue Bulletins on the Sources of Profit and Other Statistics.

Preliminary arrangements were perfected at the census bureau at Washington this week whereby the public is soon to be put in possession of valuable statistics relating to the sources of profit and the ownership of the farms of the country. Statistician Powers, in charge of the agricultural branch of the census work, is preparing to issue bulletins covering that branch of the census inquiries, and from the first drafts of the bulletins made in the course of preparation it is safe to say that no part of the census work will present to the public so much of interesting and instructive data as will be contained in these bulletins.

It was first designed to have the bulletins contain all the matter to be contained in the final reports on the subjects covered. This would have necessitated the issuing of bulletins carrying all the statistics covering the inquiries relating to farms and for each state a bulletin would amount to from fifteen to fifty pages of closely printed statistics. This plan was regarded as impractical as it embraced a full report as to each county, whereas the real object of the bulletins is to place before the people in the most compact form the more interesting features of the census returns. By the plan now proposed it is expected by Statistician Powers that the bulletins will not cover more than a dozen pages in each instance, and that the important features only will be issued in bulletin form. In this way the facts will be speedily brought to the attention of the public along the lines covered by the census, and particularly relating to the acreage devoted to farms and the amount of land under cultivation; the amount and value of products and of live stock, and the ownership of each farm, together with the area and number and area of farms rented or operated other than by their owners. All this matter is being prepared in brief and interesting form, so that one may see at a glance what results have been achieved in the agriculture of the different states and what the value of farms and products were in 1900, compared with the period ten years previous. The first bulletins will be issued in about a week, and it is believed they will be among the most interesting of the results of the census shown up to the present time.

The bureau of animal industries of the department of agriculture has scattered its field force throughout the western states, especially those where sheep raising is a leading industry, and is endeavoring to stamp out sheep scab, which for years has been such a terror among stock interests. After long and careful study the bureau has devised means of successfully stamping out this disease, if the sheep owners will but co-operate. As far as possible these agents are operating along the lines of railroad, endeavoring to prevent the shipment of sheep infected with scab, and to induce herders to single out diseased sheep and keep them away from the flocks. A considerable force is now operating in the Dakotas, but as yet no report has been had indicating the progress that has been made.

ENTERTAINED BY OPEN WINDOW CLUB

At the home of Mrs. Bert Gage on North Bluff street last evening the members of the Open Window Club delighted a company of their friends with a splendid entertainment, given under the direction of Miss Gertrude Stoddard. The program was a very pretentious one and was splendidly carried out by the young people who participated in it.

The first part of the program consisted of music and recitations. There were well rendered piano solos by Mamie Curtiss, Mary Ko'le and Ida Stoddard and a piano duet by Ida Stoddard and Mary Gage. Vocal solos were sweetly sung by Sadie Granger and Lulu McDonald; recitations were prettily given by Gertrude Scott, Mary Gage and Edna Wright.

The second part of the program was a very amusing farce, "Surprised," in which all of the young ladies which appeared in the first part of the program took part in a very creditable manner.

NEWS FROM BELOIT.

Beloit, June 28—Thomas Rogers, the engineer at the Eureka Laundry in this city, owned by Bernard & Rossow, two Janesville boys, accidentally fell into a vat of scalding water this morning, and his legs were terribly burned, the skin and flesh dropping off in large sections. His case is considered serious by the physicians.

The matter of the John Thompson Manufacturing Co. remaining in Beloit has been definitely settled and the company has signed a contract to build across the line in what is known as South Beloit. Citizens generally rejoice at the news as the works had been given up for lost, it being understood that the plant would remove to Fulton, Ill. The plant employs 400 men and would have meant a serious loss to the city. It is announced by the promoters, Messrs. Wheeler, that another concern employing 200 people has been secured for South Beloit, also.

A New Cure For Catarrh in Tablet Form.

The old time treatment for catarrh was in the form of douches or sprays; later on internal remedies were given with greater success, but being in liquid or powdered form were inconvenient and were open to the same objection to all liquid remedies, that is, that they lose whatever medicinal power they may have had on exposure to the air.

The tablet is the ideal form in which to administer medication, but until recently no successful catarrh tablet had ever been attempted.

At this writing, however, a most excellent and palatable remedy for catarrh has been placed before the public and sold by druggists, called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of the most recent discovered medicines for the cure of catarrh, and results from their use have been highly gratifying.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain principally highly concentrated antiseptics, which kill the catarrh germs in the blood and mucous membranes, and in this respect are strictly scientific and modern. As it has been known for some years past by the ablest physicians that the most successful treatment was by inhaling or spraying antiseptics. The use of inhalers, douches, and sprays, however, is a nuisance and inconvenience, and moreover, in no wise compare with the same remedies given in tablet form, either in efficacy or convenience.

A clerk in a prominent insurance office at Hastings relates his experience with Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in a few words, but to the point. He says: "Catarrh has been almost constantly with me for eight years; in this climate it seems impossible to get rid of it. I awoke every morning stopped up and for the first half hour it was cough, gag, expectorate and sneeze before I could square myself for my day's work; an unpleasant and a foul breath which annoyed me exceedingly."

"I used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for two months and found them not only pleasant to take but they did the business, and I am sincerely recommending them to all catarrh sufferers."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package. They can be carried in the vest pocket and used at any time and as often as necessary. Guaranteed free from cocaine, mercury or any mineral poison; absolutely safe.

This remarkable growth is the result of using Danderine, the grandest of all hair and scalp tonics, regularly as a dressing.

It Gave Her Hair New Life,

and will do the same for you if you give it a fair trial. Danderine puts new life and vigor in both the hair and scalp. It makes the hair fluffy, silky, and there seems to be no limit to the growth it will produce. There is no other that can be compared to it, as it is founded on new ideas altogether. By request of Miss MacComb, we reproduce the following letter: KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., 209 Dearborn Street, Chicago. Gentlemen—I am having so many inquiries regarding the ad. that you are now running, showing my picture, as to genuineness of the same, that I am sending you this letter for the benefit of the public that you may reproduce it, and I will state under oath if you so desire that I used Danderine for twenty consecutive months and the average growth of my hair was one and one-fourth inches per month, making a total of twenty-five inches in twenty months. You are at liberty to use this letter underneath my picture, and by so doing will save me the trouble of answering the large number of inquiries which I am receiving daily. WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Generally fair tonight and Sunday.

STORM AND CALM.

A little lame boy, crippled from childhood by spinal disease, sat by the lake shore in his wheel chair, that for ten years had been his only means of locomotion.

A storm was gathering in the west, and as the dark clouds rolled up against the bright sunlight, casting a sombre hue over the water, and as the crooked lightning zigzagged its course across the black background, followed by the deep-voiced thunder, that caused the hot, parched earth to tremble, the boy said to his mother, who for many years had been his constant companion:

"That will be a fearful storm when it breaks, do you think the little tent we are occupying will stand the shock?"

And the mother said:
"Yes, my boy, it will be all right. The tent has been through storms before."

And so the confidence of the mother was imparted to the boy and soon he was absorbed in watching the storm.

The sky was quickly covered with scurrying clouds. The surface of the lake, that had been so quiet, rippled and sparkled with the approaching breath of the tempest, the birds were hurrying away for shelter in the thick foliage, and all nature was watching in the last hush that preceded the wind and rain.

Down the lake, two miles away, the white caps were rolling up, while a downpour of water, like a heavy fog, shut out the horizon. The roar of wind, and crash of thunder, scurrying to shelter, and the storm was on.

Trees bent and bowed before the blast, breakers rolled in on shore with deafening roar, while the artillery of heaven contributed a ceaseless bombardment.

The little tent, that sheltered the lame boy and his mother, endured the shock, and half an hour later, when the sun came out, all nature was happy, because of the storm disturbance.

The storms that visit the natural world are not always appreciated. It is customary to watch their approach with apprehension, and to complain of the damage that frequently follows in their wake.

It is easy to forget that the lightning that shivers the oak, purifies the air, and renders it fresh and wholesome. That the thunder, which startles with its deep-toned reverberations, shakes up the dry and parched ground and mellow it for cultivation. That the gale that sweeps over the country, leveling trees and fences, carries with it the miasma from the swamps and marshes, preparing the way for an atmosphere that is free from disease.

The storm is just as necessary to nature as the calm.

The old oak matures, and puts on strength and hardihood, because for a century it has battled successfully with the storms of nature. Stand by the side of it when the wind whistles through its branches, and catch the word of advice and encouragement that it whispers to its young friend across the way, whose body is bending, and head bowing before the blast.

"Steady, my friend, don't let go, the storm will soon be past and then you will spring back into place with renewed vigor."

And then the old oak tells his young friend how through all the years he has resisted and conquered, until finally, in the full majesty of well developed oakhood, he was able to defy the forces of nature, and stand out strong and independent. The oak is stalwart because of the storm.

Have you ever noticed how quickly nature recovers from the storm? Go out in the evening, when the ground is deluged, and the grass and grain is prostrate from the effects of the blast. Ruin and desolation stare you in the face. Twenty-four hours later the scene has changed and you hardly recognize the surroundings. The water has disappeared, vegetation is fresh and smiling, and everything is full of hope and promise. If here and there a plant is sacrificed, there is no word of complaint, for nature and the storm are companions, and there is so much more calm than storm that nature never complains.

There is another realm that is subject to storm and disaster, where complaints are not so rare, and that is the realm where human destiny is wrought, and the battleground where the storms of life rage with unabating fury.

The lame boy battles with a disease that human skill can never conquer. Unlike the oak, every attack leaves him physically weaker. This lad, in his patient suffering, represents a class of humanity, who are bearing unequal burdens, and who have but little to look forward to except the life beyond, where inequality is not known.

The thought is worth considering that the door that swings in from the threshold of the life we call time, opens to another life of perpetual calm, where the storm and its blighting effects are not known.

On this battlefield called life, there is another class of storms, that are so universal that none escape. They do not leave the scars of the withered limb, the palsied hand, the sightless eye, the deaf ear, or other traces of physical defect.

They sweep over the moral kingdom of humanity, and the individual, standing out alone, resists like the sturdy oak, or goes down before the blast.

It is well in this storm-swept world to have an anchorage, and a hiding place, so that when the tempests of passions and anger assail, or the torrents of doubt and selfishness engulf, the frail tenement may hold steady and secure the jewel that is destined to live forever.

Gen. Cailles' surrender and refusal to sell his rifles, show an appreciation to the position of Americans to a wonderful degree. The leniency of American officers to those who have been little better than banditti is in keeping with the attitude in taking upon ourselves the task of freeing Cuba from Spain.

Iowa farmers are holding up freight trains and kidnapping the weary Willies to work in their wheat fields. And yet, why should he work for $3.00 per day, when he can live at free lunch counters for half that amount per week?

Sir Thomas Lipton suggests an ocean race for the two yachts. Why don't he suggest a race to the North Pole, or a trans-Atlantic automobile race? Racing boats are no more fit to sail the seas in a storm than a harbor tug is fit for a four oared shell.

England is just discovering that something is happening over here. An Englishman purchased a few articles the other day and when he got home, he found he had a Stacy-Adams shoe, an E. & W. collar and pair of cuffs, a Browning-King suit of clothes, and a Buck Bros. razor. All American makes.

When Booker Washington was janitor he swept and dusted the rooms four times instead of once. This is the secret of success of most of our great men: thoroughness and faithfulness to the most trivial duty.

The ideal workshops at Dayton, O., are deserted by mechanics. Not because of the baths, the flowers, the lunches, the library and pictures furnished them by their employers; but because they could not have these things in their homes.

Now McKinley, Hay and Root know all about how the islands should be governed, and how we shall settle the tariff. They have heard the sweet high school and college girl graduate read her essay.

Senator Platt's threatened retirement is not stirring up a great deal of opposition. What has he ever done in the senate except to pick plums?

The referendum in South Dakota has proved a failure. People prefer to use their referendum when they elect their state representatives.

Gen. Funston's March, a new piece of music, is full of runs, slides and holds, written in "C" sharp and "B" natural, but with few rests.

The American dinner pail kept by hardware dealers holds six quarts. A few years ago they only held four quarts.

Italy is getting herself in the Russia-United States tariff tangle. The bounty system is expensive and entirely unnecessary.

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

Racine News: The high reputation of the State university as a school for athletics bids fair to be maintained by the influx of high school muscular boys recently graduated.

Plymouth Review: The people of Wisconsin are proud of their two United States senators. They appreciate that no state in the Union is better represented in the upper congress. They would be glad to see their senior senator placed in the presidential chair, because they feel confident that there is nowhere a man who could fill the place with more ability.

Waupun Times: The Omaha board of education has decreed that all public school teachers who marry lose their positions on the day of their wedding. Well, isn't that why most of them marry?

Appleton Crescent: Senator Spooner will be given his coup de grace with little courtesy should the administration be successful in succeeding itself, of which the senator's friends are fully aware, and intend to govern themselves accordingly.

Sheboygan Telegram: The common school representing the commonwealth is democratic in its organization, tendencies and instincts, therefore the graduating exercises should be simple and so plain that all may stand equal before the public, the class being plainly and neatly dressed; no more.

Merrill Advocate: Outside of a few interests, which for purely selfish reasons are clamoring for tariff reductions on other people's products in order that their own export trade may be increased, the republicans of the United States are opposed to tearing open the tariff question. They realize that the country is doing well, phenomenally well, with things as they are, and they are, and they want the tariff let alone.

LIGHTNING STRIKES ELEPHANT HERD

Bolt Enters a Circus Tent at Eau Claire, Wis., and Kills One of the Big Animals.

Eau Claire, Wis., June 29.—Lightning struck the animal tent of a circus here last night killing one elephant and injuring two others. The bolt struck the menagerie tent just before eight o'clock, when about fifty men and boys were in the tent. Five elephants, two ponies and two men were knocked over. Ella a trick elephant, got up first and then fell dead and Parker, the trainer, says she died of fright.

There was a heavy rainstorm at the time and almost incessant lightning and thunder, and when the four other elephants revived their trainers had difficulty in managing them. This show has been peculiarly unfortunate with elephants. Big Charley and two other valuable beasts have been lost in the last few years.

Ella was eight years old and was bought from Hagenbeck. The other elephants were greatly distressed and tried to revive her by slapping her with their trunks and one poked hay into her mouth.

Drugs, Surgery or Electricity.

Magnetism is not hypnotism, the latter deadens the faculties; the former gives them life. Magnetism inspires, thrills, enlivens, awakens and enlivens. Prof. Funk does not claim to do miracles, but the rapid progress his patients are making towards health certainly borders on the miraculous. A long list of pronounced incurable cases have been treated by Prof. Funk and permanently cured. His success on treating diseases by Vital Magnetism has been demonstrated repeatedly by the numerous testimonials of people in this vicinity. Even the most skeptical have been forced to acknowledge that Prof. Funk has performed many wonderful cures, his success being based upon a thorough understanding of magnetic healing and good judgment in applying treatments to suit the needs of each case.

Prof. Funk will continue to give free treatments Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week. Many have already taken advantage of his liberal offer, yet he extends this most generous one more week, so that all may avail themselves of the opportunity of testing the merits of his magnetic treatments.

TO REBUILD STONE CRUSHING PLANT

CITY PROPERTY DESTROYED BY FIRE LAST NIGHT.

Fire Department Could Not Do Anything Because of the Lack of Water—Plant Cost the City About $5,000—No Insurance on Building or Machinery.

A fire probably started by lightning totally destroyed the city stone crushing plant located at the Barron quarry just beyond the city limits at 10:30 o'clock last night. The alarm was sent in by telephone to the West Side fire station and box 56 was struck on the automatic call located at the station.

The fire department responded at once but when the end of the pipe line was reached Chief Spencer ordered the hose wagons to return to the house. The chief and the fire patrol went on to the fire. By the time the patrol arrived, the engine and boiler house and the crusher platform were destroyed and the whole top of the stone bins was burning fiercely. There was no one in sight about the place when the patrol arrived and it appeared to be deserted.

There was no water at hand so that the department could be of any service and the chief ordered them to return to the city. Alderman McLean was telephoned and reached the plant shortly after the patrol but could do no good.

Engineer Jay Walker is certain that it did not start from the engine room as the fire under the boiler was carefully banked before he left last night and there was no fire about the place. Joe Zellick had been all over the plant last night and everything was all O. K. when he left. The lightning had been very sharp in that vicinity about a half hour before the fire was discovered and probably was the cause of it.

The plant was built for the city two years ago by the Austin Mfg. Co., of Harvey Ill., at a cost of $4,500 and about $500 additional was afterward spent on it.

There was no insurance. The street paving contractors who are depending on the plant for their crushed stone will also be delayed in finishing their contract.

Ald. Fiffeld, Gilkey, Kothman and McLean of this city, in company with S. C. Cobb and Gene Fish visited the plant this morning and looked over the wreck.

The boiler and engine are not injured badly. The babbit is melted out of the bushings of the engine and some of the wooden handles are burned off, otherwise outside of being badly scorched it is all right.

The pit iron crusher when the platform burned away dropped down into the pit. It is not injured much and will be raised and reset at once. Eugene Fish was secured to do the work and will start on it early on Monday morning.

The stone bins were entirely destroyed and the stone with which they were filled dumped on the ground. Alderman McLean has a large force of men employed in hauling away the stone and clearing up the debris.

The committee decided to rebuild the plant as soon as possible and make any improvement that had been found wanting in the old plant, the most important one being the enlargement of the crushed stone bins, which have often proved too small when there was a big demand for stone.

The Austin people who erected the old plant have been notified to send a man at once and a portion of the heavy timbers have been ordered.

It is estimated that it will cost at least $2,500 to replace the buildings and put the plant in shape for work.

NEWLY WEDDED PAIR SURPRISED

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam Give a Reception on Their Return Home Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam returned home last evening at 9 o'clock from their brief wedding trip in Chicago. There was no waiting crowd of friends at the depot and mentally congratulating themselves on being allowed to return home without falling into the hands of their joke-loving friends, they entered a carriage and were quietly driven to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Lappin, 252 Park Place.

When the carriage stopped the bride and groom understood why they had been permitted to escape at the depot. The carriage was surrounded and before the driver could obey the hurried order to drive on which came excitedly from the interior, strong hands had secured the horses at their heads, the carriage doors were torn open and Mr. and Mrs. Putnam were speedily in the midst of a merry laughing and congratulating crowd of friends.

The wedding reception was planned as a surprise for them by their friends, Mrs. H. G. Carter and Mrs. E. P. Doty and their plan was carried out with the knowledge and assistance of the bride's mother and sister, Mrs. Mary Doty. The surprise was a most genuine one and after the welcomes and greetings were over, some time was pleasantly spent in social conversation. Excellent mandolin and guitar music was furnished by Harry Haggart, Lawrence Doty and Edward Wray. Ice cream and cake was served and the guests drank the health of the bride and groom with sincerity and real depth of feeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam will make their home for the present with Mrs. Lappin, the bride's mother.

An Informal Reception

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Jackman, 105 Sinclair street, there was a delightfully informal company yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Jackman having invited a few of her young lady friends to spend the afternoon with her. The company was a small one, there being only two tables of six-handed euchre, the card tables serving as the center for the afternoon's fun. The game was played on the pleasant lawn and Mrs. Howard Hoover won the dainty prize. After the card playing, the most delicious refreshments were served. Chairs were deserted for the velvety carpet of grass and the guests enjoyed the luncheon in true picnic style. The afternoon was one of pure enjoyment.

A Pleasant Party.

A pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nott, on Prospect avenue, Thursday, in honor of the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Francis Wallis of Chicago, who is visiting relatives and friends in this city.

Mrs. Wallis is the mother of Thomas Wallis and a sister of Mrs. Edith Nott, both of this city.

Mrs. Wallis, in whose honor the party was given, makes her home with her son, Henry Wallis, in Chicago. She is bright and active and helped in the preparations for the birthday supper, baking a part of the cake and the bread which were a delicious part of the elaborate feast. She also composed a poem on the occasion, which she read to the great delight of the guests. Mrs. Wallis has always been a writer of ability and her poem showed that she is still ready with her pen in spite of her many years.

Presbyterian Social

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church closed their season's work in a most enjoyable manner yesterday afternoon. At the invitation of Mrs. G. I. Rumrill, this last meeting was held on the spacious lawn adjoining her home, 152 Linn street. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in the cool and grateful shade of lawn and porch, the ladies finding inspiration for their work from the fragrance and beauty of the blossoms in Mrs. Rumrill's rose garden. The afternoon came to a delightful close with an elegant picnic supper served on the lawn.

OAK LAWN HOSPITAL

Efforts Will Be Made to Use Building for the Purpose Designed—Meeting Last Night.

The call for a meeting of the Oak Lawn Hospital association met with the most gratifying response and the result was a large meeting of members held at the municipal court room yesterday afternoon. Several stock holders who had never attended a previous meeting were present, and considerable time was spent in the discussion of the best thing to be done with the association's property.

All phases of the question were discussed and it was finally decided that it was advisable to dispose of the property. The matter was left in the hands of a committee consisting of John Thoroughgood, president, F. S. Winslow, treasurer and Pliny Norcross.

The committee was instructed to sell all the furniture at once and to investigate the matter of disposing of the building and the four acres of ground. The committee will report a meeting to be held in July and it is expected that enough money will be realized by the sale of the furniture to pay the interest on the $2,000 mortgage. The interest falls due in July.

The question was asked whether the association would be willing to turn over the property to a society which would assume the liabilities and use it for a hospital and there seemed to be a general feeling that such a plan would meet with the approval of the stockholders. If a formal proposition to this effect is made at the July meeting it will probably be accepted.

Possible Clue to John Nicholson's Whereabouts.

By means of a telephone message from the Janesville Barb Wire Co., we learn that there was at one time a man by that name in their employ. As Mr. Nicholson was a machinist when insured, this is probably the man that the ETNA LIFE is waiting to pay an endowment to. His exact location at the present time is uncertain. Can anyone give further information?

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Yesterday Was a Jubilee Day at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burdick.

Yesterday was a jubilee day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burdick, 111 Pearl street, the occasion for the joy which prevailed the home being the fact that Mrs. Burdick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hopkins had reached the fiftieth milestone on their hand-in-hand journey through life. It was their golden wedding day and it was celebrated in royal fashion.

About twenty-five relatives assembled at Mr. and Mrs. Burdick's home to share in the pleasures of the day which was crowded full of merriment and happiness. There was a wedding feast worthy of the occasion and the aged bride and groom received many handsome and appropriate souvenirs of their golden wedding day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins started out on life's journey together on June 28, 1851, at Painesville, O. For several years they made their home in Buffalo, N. Y., and then they came west and resided in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin for many years. In 1879 they went to Sheridan county, Kansas, where they remained until two years ago when they came to Janesville to make their home with their daughter and for the past two years they have resided with Mrs. Burdick. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have four children living; J. W. Hopkins of Grainfield, Kan.; Mrs. Jennie Perkins of Plainville, O.; and Mrs. J. T. Waggoner and Mrs. E. C. Burdick of this city. The son and the two daughters shared in the golden wedding festivities which were marred only by the sincere regret that the third daughter, Mrs. Perkins was unable to be present.

A HEAVY STORM STRIKES ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—A heavy wind and rainstorm struck this city and neighborhood. Shade trees suffered greatly, many chimneys were blown down, a number of small buildings were partially wrecked, and the telephone and electric wires were badly demoralized. Half a dozen people were reported injured, but none in a serious condition. The storm lasted about half an hour and had many of the appearance of a tornado, the city being in semi-darkness during its prevalence.

Kodol

Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

You might as well put fuel under a boiler without burning it and expect the engine to run, as to eat food and not digest it and expect to keep up nourishment for your body. You must have nourishment to live and when you cannot digest your food, Kodol, DYSPEPSIA CURE will do it for you, with no aid whatever from the stomach. It contains exactly the same elements as Nature's digestive fluids and can't help but produce the same results.—David Taylor, Blind Ridge, Pa., writes:—"I have been afflicted for a number of years with dyspepsia and have tried various remedies without good results but was cured by one bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. I cannot say too much in its favor."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2 1/4 times the 50c. size. When you need a soothing and healing application for piles, sores and skin diseases, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel SALVE. Beware of counterfeits. M'CUE & BUSS.

POND'S EXTRACT

There is only ONE POND'S EXTRACT, and everybody knows its purity, strength and great medicinal value. Don't take the weak, watery Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" POND'S EXTRACT. They generally contain "wood alcohol," which irritates the skin, and, taken internally, is a deadly poison. Get genuine POND'S EXTRACT, sold ONLY in SEALED bottles, in BUFF wrappers.

SAMUEL GOMPERS IS BADLY HURT

Labor Leader Thrown from a Street Car—Confined to His Home by Serious Injuries.

Washington, June 29.—President Samuel A. Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is lying at his residence in this city suffering from a concussion of the brain due to an accident late last night.

Returning from a suburban resort with his children, Mr. Gompers signalled the street car to stop at the corner near his residence. Thinking that the motorman heard the bell and as the car slackened speed he attempted to alight. He was thrown violently, striking his head with considerable force.

He was carried immediately to his residence and his family physician summoned. He lay unconscious for several hours, but a careful examination developed that the skull was not fractured. Mr. Gompers' condition this afternoon is reported improved by his physician, who says that while his patient is not out of danger he entertains hope of his ultimate recovery.

The Hague, June 29.—The cabinet has resigned, in consequence of the recent elections, by which the government supporters lost 13 seats.

Fails to Save Her Husband.

Columbus, Ohio, June 29.—Mrs. Edwin Ruthven, wife of the Cleveland murderer, made a final effort to save her husband, who was electrocuted here. Hoping that she might be punished in his stead she declared that she donned his clothes and assisted in the burglary and that she fired the shot that killed Policeman Shipp. The statement was palpably false and simply the frantic effort of a loyal wife. When Ruthven was told of it he declared that it was not true and that his wife was innocent of any crime. He seemed much touched by her fidelity, but went to his death without knowing anything of her attempt to commit suicide. The officers sparing him that additional pang.

A TRYING POSITION

Janesville Readers
Will Appreciate
This Advice.

A constant itching tries your patience. Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating as itching piles or eczema. To scratch the irritation makes it worse, to leave it alone means misery. Some citizens can tell you how to be free from these troubles. Read the following:

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co. says: "I tried about everything recommended for it, but found no relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving, for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itching and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house, and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

Remember the name, "Doans," and take no other.

YOU NEED A THIN COAT FOR SUMMER

There is nothing better than a skeleton-made Blue Serge.

It is comfortable when you could not bear to wear a lined coat, and the cost is small.

We are carrying the best kinds of these coats. You will be surprised to find that such excellent qualities and fine fitting garments can be had ready to wear. You can't afford to be without such low-priced comforts.

Single-Breasted Coats . . . $3 & $4
